

Obama's time-warp focus on the New START treaty

The printable version is no longer supported and may have rendering errors. Please update your browser bookmarks and please use the default browser print function instead.

This is an opinion item.

Author(s) George F. Will

Source The Washington Post

Date December 2, 2010

URL <http://www.washingtonpost.com/wp-dyn/content/article/2010/12/01/AR2010120104728.html>

Quote

“ "At Russia's insistence, the treaty contains language that some Republicans think does - and the Obama administration insists does not - couple limits on offensive and defensive systems. If it does, Republicans should oppose New START; if the language is, as the administration says, without force, it should be deleted. The Senate made ratification of the Jay Treaty (1795) and the Panama Canal Treaty (1978) contingent on modifying some language." ”

Add or change this opinion item's references

This item takes a mixed stance on the position Treaty should be ratified on the topic New START.

Retrieved from

"https://discoursedb.org/w/index.php?title=Obama%27s_time-warp_focus_on_the_New_START_treaty&oldid=13538"

This page was last edited on December 2, 2010, at 14:56.

All text is available under the terms of the GNU Free Documentation License.