

'Stimulus' Follies: Pelosi's Poison

The printable version is no longer supported and may have rendering errors. Please update your browser bookmarks and please use the default browser print function instead.

This is an opinion item.

Author(s) Kirsten Powers

Source New York Post

Date February 6, 2009

URL http://www.nypost.com/seven/02062009/postopinion/opedcolumnists/stimulus_follies__pelosis_poison_153805.htm

Quote

“Pelosi and her pals were more than happy to make the new president look weak in order to get their long-held wish list. The president has ordered the removal of all programs that aren't likely to give the economy an immediate boost. But perhaps he should scrap the whole thing and start over.”

Add or change this opinion item's references

This item takes a mixed stance on the position Act should be passed on the topic American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009.

Retrieved from

"https://discoursedb.org/w/index.php?title=%27Stimulus%27_Follies:_Pelosi%27s_Poison&oldid=9027"

This page was last edited on February 6, 2009, at 16:36.

All text is available under the terms of the GNU Free Documentation License.