

An Assault On Corporate Speech

The printable version is no longer supported and may have rendering errors. Please update your browser bookmarks and please use the default browser print function instead.

This is an opinion item.

Author(s) George F. Will

Source The Washington Post

Date February 27, 2007

URL <http://www.washingtonpost.com/wp-dyn/content/article/2007/02/26/AR2007022601246.html>

Quote

“ Under the card-check system, unions are able to, in effect, select the voters they want. It strips all workers of privacy and exposes them, one at a time, to the face-to-face pressure of union organizers who distribute and collect the cards. The Supreme Court has said that the card-check system is "admittedly inferior to the election process." ”

The following other items refer to this item: Challenging the Workplace Dictatorship

Add or change this opinion item's references

This item argues against the position Act should be passed on the topic Employee Free Choice Act.

Retrieved from "https://discoursedb.org/w/index.php?title=An_Assault_On_Corporate_Speech&oldid=4648"

This page was last edited on March 2, 2007, at 11:13.

All text is available under the terms of the GNU Free Documentation License.