

Biden owns the moment. He'll also own the consequences.

The printable version is no longer supported and may have rendering errors. Please update your browser bookmarks and please use the default browser print function instead.

This is an opinion item.

Author(s) Bret Stephens

Source The New York Times

Date August 15, 2021

URL <https://www.nytimes.com/2021/08/15/opinion/afghanistan-taliban-biden.html>

Quote

“ But is there any reason we should care more about the fate of Afghans than we do of desperate people elsewhere? Yes, because our inability to help everyone, everywhere doesn't relieve us of the obligation to help someone, somewhere — and because America's power and reputation in the world are also functions of being a beacon of confidence and hope. ”

Add or change this opinion item's references

This item argues against the position Withdrawal was justified on the topic Withdrawal of United States troops from Afghanistan (2020–2021).

This item argues for the position Withdrawal was poorly executed on the topic Withdrawal of United States troops from Afghanistan (2020–2021).

Retrieved from

"https://discoursedb.org/w/index.php?title=Biden_owns_the_moment._He%27ll_also_own_the_consequences.&oldid=33055"

This page was last edited on September 3, 2021, at 20:56.

All text is available under the terms of the GNU Free Documentation License.