Quote

“ Now, I don't think "Soylent Green"-style solutions are coming down the pike. But every nationalized health-care system to one degree or another rations care based on the quality of life and number of "life years" a procedure will yield. That's perfectly reasonable. If you put me in charge of everyone's health care, I would do that, too. That's a really good argument for not giving me -- or anyone else -- that power.”
