Quote

“ Take spending, for example. The nonpartisan Committee for a Responsible Federal Budget said neither candidate would reverse the growth of spending, but while Clinton’s policies would add $200 billion to the debt by 2026, Trump’s policies would increase it by $5.3 trillion. The national debt would rise to 86 percent of GDP under Clinton (compared to 77 percent now), but Trump would drive it up to 105 percent of GDP. Aren’t Republicans supposed to be more fiscally prudent? ”
