Electoral College is outdated

The printable version is no longer supported and may have rendering errors. Please update your browser bookmarks and please use the default browser print function instead.

This is an opinion item.

Author(s) The Denver Post editorial board

Source The Denver Post

Date April 9, 2007

URL http://www.denverpost.com/opinionheadlines/ci_5628615

Quote

"Under the current, winner-take-all system, each state's electoral votes go to the candidate who prevails in that state's popular vote. Since even the smallest states get at least three electoral votes, smaller states have a disproportionately large voice. For instance, an electoral vote in Wyoming represents 164,594 people, but in California, it covers 615,848 people."

"

Add or change this opinion item's references

This item argues for the position Compact should be passed on the topic National Popular Vote Interstate Compact.

Retrieved from "https://discoursedb.org/w/index.php?title=Electoral College is outdated&oldid=5314"

This page was last edited on April 17, 2007, at 14:49.

All text is available under the terms of the GNU Free Documentation License.