

Federalism, Not Partition

The printable version is no longer supported and may have rendering errors. Please update your browser bookmarks and please use the default browser print function instead.

This is an opinion item.

Author(s) Joe Biden, Leslie H. Gelb

Source The Washington Post

Date October 3, 2007

URL <http://www.washingtonpost.com/wp-dyn/content/article/2007/10/02/AR2007100201824.html>

Quote

“First, our plan is not partition, though even some supporters and the media mistakenly call it that. It would hold Iraq together by bringing to life the federal system enshrined in its constitution. A federal Iraq is a united Iraq but one in which power devolves to regional governments, with a limited central government responsible for common concerns such as protecting borders and distributing oil revenue.”

”

Add or change this opinion item's references

This item argues against the position Iraq should be split up on the topic Post-invasion Iraq.

Retrieved from "https://discoursedb.org/w/index.php?title=Federalism,_Not_Partition&oldid=7205"

This page was last edited on February 3, 2008, at 20:29.

All text is available under the terms of the GNU Free Documentation License.