

For president: Mitt Romney

The printable version is no longer supported and may have rendering errors. Please update your browser bookmarks and please use the default browser print function instead.

This is an opinion item.

Author(s) Las Vegas Review-Journal editorial board
Source Las Vegas Review-Journal
Date October 7, 2012
URL <http://www.lvrj.com/opinion/for-president-173016161.html>

Quote “ The suggestion that tax increases and higher energy prices will lift the middle class defies logic. But it's not terribly surprising coming from an administration that's completely lacking in business experience and openly hostile to free-market capitalism. This summer, the president famously said "the private sector is doing fine," and to business owners: "You didn't build that." ”

Add or change this opinion item's references

This item argues for the position Romney should be elected on the topic United States presidential election, 2012.

This item argues against the position Obama should be elected on the topic United States presidential election, 2012.

Retrieved from "https://discoursedb.org/w/index.php?title=For_president:_Mitt_Romney&oldid=15989"

This page was last edited on October 8, 2012, at 20:58.

All text is available under the terms of the GNU Free Documentation License.