Get Tough On Iran

The printable version is no longer supported and may have rendering errors. Please update your browser bookmarks and please use the default browser print function instead.

This is an opinion item.

Author(s)	Investor's Business Daily editorial board
Source	Investor's Business Daily
Date	May 14, 2007
URL	http://www.ibdeditorials.com/IBDArticles.aspx?id=264035641184357
Quote	"Britain, France and Germany, working through the U.N.'s nuclear watchdog, have engaged in nearly two years of diplomacy with Iran in an effort to get it to give up its outlaw nuclear program. It's brought little but contempt from Iran — and steadfast refusal to end its enrichment of uranium, as required by international law. Why think they'll now do anything we ask — particularly since Iran has repeatedly portrayed the U.S. as the "Great Satan"?"	,,

Add or change this opinion item's references

This item argues against the position United States should negotiate with Iran on the topic Post-invasion Iraq.

Retrieved from "https://discoursedb.org/w/index.php?title=Get_Tough_On_Iran&oldid=5795"

This page was last edited on May 15, 2007, at 13:31.

All text is available under the terms of the GNU Free Documentation License.