

Health care taxing America's workers

The printable version is no longer supported and may have rendering errors. Please update your browser bookmarks and please use the default browser print function instead.

This is an opinion item.

Author(s) Debra Saunders

Source San Francisco Chronicle

Date September 29, 2011

URL <http://www.sfgate.com/cgi-bin/article.cgi?f=/c/a/2011/09/28/ED4B1LANOR.DTL>

Quote

“ The Affordable Care Act signed by President Obama was supposed to rein in runaway health-care costs. How's that going? Not as advertised. Even before the ACA takes full effect in 2014, today's mandates - such as a requirement that employers offer coverage of adult children up to the age of 26 and that some plans provide free preventive care - must be a factor in the cost spurt. The Kaiser report estimates 2.3 million adult children were added to their parents' employer-sponsored plans because of the law. ”

Add or change this opinion item's references

This item argues for the position Act should not have been passed on the topic Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act.

Retrieved from

"https://discoursedb.org/w/index.php?title=Health_care_taxing_America%27s_workers&oldid=15368"

This page was last edited on March 29, 2012, at 22:32.

All text is available under the terms of the GNU Free Documentation License.