

In Defense of Sarbanes-Oxley

The printable version is no longer supported and may have rendering errors. Please update your browser bookmarks and please use the default browser print function instead.

This is an opinion item.

Author(s) Paul Volcker, Arthur Levitt

Source The Wall Street Journal

Date June 14, 2004

URL <http://online.wsj.com/article/SB108717805594936016.html>

Quote

“ More importantly, we must not forget that U.S. markets are the best in the world because they are the best regulated. We should not engage in a race to the bottom. Instead, we should lead the world to the top, and we are. Countries are emulating our reforms -- from the new Combined Code in the U.K. to Germany's new Kodex of best practices -- and as a result, we are strengthening the global economy, not being defeated by it.”

”

Add or change this opinion item's references

This item argues against the position Act should be reformed on the topic Sarbanes-Oxley Act.

Retrieved from "https://discoursedb.org/w/index.php?title=In_Defense_of_Sarbanes-Oxley&oldid=9266"

This page was last edited on March 30, 2009, at 12:16.

All text is available under the terms of the GNU Free Documentation License.