Mark Penn's Transgression

The printable version is no longer supported and may have rendering errors. Please update your browser bookmarks and please use the default browser print function instead.

This is an opinion item.

Author(s) George F. Will

Source The Washington Post

Date April 8, 2008

URL http://www.washingtonpost.com/wp-dyn/content/article/2008/04/07/AR2008040702194.html

Quote

"Under the Andean Trade Preference Act, passed by a Democratic Congress is 1991, the United States imposes tariffs on only 8 percent of imports from Colombia. But more than 90 percent of U.S. exports to Colombia are subjected to tariffs, some as high as 35 percent. The trade agreement would make this "one-way free trade," which now primarily serves Colombia's interests, more mutually beneficial."

"

Add or change this opinion item's references

This item argues for the position Agreement should be ratified on the topic Colombia-United States Free Trade Agreement.

Retrieved from "https://discoursedb.org/w/index.php?title=Mark_Penn%27s_Transgression&oldid=7427"

This page was last edited on April 8, 2008, at 20:43.

All text is available under the terms of the GNU Free Documentation License.