

Maryland's Senate Race

The printable version is no longer supported and may have rendering errors. Please update your browser bookmarks and please use the default browser print function instead.

This is an opinion item.

Author(s) The Washington Post editorial board

Source The Washington Post

Date October 20, 2006

URL <http://www.washingtonpost.com/wp-dyn/content/article/2006/10/20/AR2006102000010.html>

Quote

“ One candidate in Maryland's U.S. Senate race, Rep. Benjamin L. Cardin , would be a natural leader in the Senate by dint of his command of issues, proven integrity, formidable intellect and unstinting work ethic. The other candidate, Lt. Gov. Michael S. Steele, deploys platitudes and gauzy rhetoric to disguise a tissue-thin grasp of policy.”

Add or change this opinion item's references

This item argues for the position Cardin should be elected on the topic Maryland United States Senate election, 2006.

This item argues against the position Steele should be elected on the topic Maryland United States Senate election, 2006.

Retrieved from "https://discoursedb.org/w/index.php?title=Maryland%27s_Senate_Race&oldid=3755"

This page was last edited on October 20, 2006, at 15:02.

All text is available under the terms of the GNU Free Documentation License.