

Message to the civilised world: save Darfurians from their own regime

The printable version is no longer supported and may have rendering errors. Please update your browser bookmarks and please use the default browser print function instead.

This is an opinion item.

Author(s) David Aaronovitch

Source The Times

Date September 19, 2006

URL <http://www.timesonline.co.uk/article/0,,6-2363728,00.html>

Quote

“ This week the United Nations must insist that Sudan accept the UN force, or we must accept that the UN can offer no protection from genocide. There are plenty of countries, such as Germany, Spain, India, Turkey and Sweden, who are not militarily over-committed and who could take the leading role in saving the Darfurians from their own Government. A long commitment of forces is better than sharing historic guilt.”

Add or change this opinion item's references

This item argues for the position United Nations should send peacekeepers on the topic Darfur conflict.

Retrieved from

"https://discoursedb.org/w/index.php?title=Message_to_the_civilised_world:_save_Darfurians_from_their_own_regime&oldid=3197"

This page was last edited on September 19, 2006, at 20:47.

All text is available under the terms of the GNU Free Documentation License.