Obamacare options grim for young people

The printable version is no longer supported and may have rendering errors. Please update your browser bookmarks and please use the default browser print function instead.

This is an opinion item.

Author(s) Katrina Trinko

Source USA Today

Date November 10, 2013

URL http://www.usatoday.com/story/opinion/2013/11/10/obamacare-costs-young-people-column/3489751/

Quote

In 45 states and Washington, D.C., young adults will find that their premiums have risen since Obamacare's implementation, according to an October study by the conservative Heritage Foundation. And in most states, we're not talking about the kind of slight increases that could be offset by forgoing a couple of lattes a month. Instead, these increases are enough to make young adults squeeze in another roommate — or maybe even move back in with Mom and Dad.

99

Add or change this opinion item's references

This item argues for the position Act should not have been passed on the topic Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act.

Retrieved from

"https://discoursedb.org/w/index.php?title=Obamacare options grim for young people&oldid=16984"

This page was last edited on November 11, 2013, at 14:31.

All text is available under the terms of the GNU Free Documentation License.