

Obamacare vs. the Dutiful

The printable version is no longer supported and may have rendering errors. Please update your browser bookmarks and please use the default browser print function instead.

This is an opinion item.

Author(s) Charles C. W. Cooke

Source National Review

Date November 18, 2013

URL <http://www.nationalreview.com/article/364174/obamacare-vs-dutiful-charles-c-w-cooke>

Quote

“ Among those whom the president has explicitly deemed to be losing out “through no fault of their own” are illegal immigrants who were brought here as children, federal workers who were furloughed during the recent government shutdown, and “homeowners facing foreclosure.” Oddly enough, however, he has yet to mention the millions of responsible and admirable Americans who for years purchased health insurance on the individual market and who are now being thrown off their plans — through no fault of their own, of course, but by him and his central political achievement. ”

Add or change this opinion item's references

This item argues for the position Act should not have been passed on the topic Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act.

This item refers to the previous opinion item Daring to Complain About Obamacare.

Retrieved from "https://discoursedb.org/w/index.php?title=Obamacare_vs._the_Dutiful&oldid=17036"

This page was last edited on November 18, 2013, at 20:50.

All text is available under the terms of the GNU Free Documentation License.