

Protectionist Party?

The printable version is no longer supported and may have rendering errors. Please update your browser bookmarks and please use the default browser print function instead.

This is an opinion item.

Author(s) The Wall Street Journal editorial board

Source The Wall Street Journal

Date November 18, 2006

URL <http://www.opinionjournal.com/weekend/hottopic/?id=110009270>

Quote

“ If Democrats want to help American workers, there are many things they could do: Make health insurance and pensions more portable, promote competition for failing public schools, reduce the cost of litigation that drives companies overseas. Trade protection, however, will be an economic and political loser.”

Add or change this opinion item's references

This item argues for the position Agreement should be ratified on the topic Colombia-United States Free Trade Agreement.

This item argues for the position Agreement should be ratified on the topic Peru-United States Free Trade Agreement.

This item refers to the previous opinion item Democrats and Trade.

Retrieved from "https://discoursedb.org/w/index.php?title=Protectionist_Party%3F&oldid=4687"

This page was last edited on March 11, 2007, at 10:52.

All text is available under the terms of the GNU Free Documentation License.