

States must lead

The printable version is no longer supported and may have rendering errors. Please update your browser bookmarks and please use the default browser print function instead.

This is an opinion item.

Author(s) The Philadelphia Inquirer editorial board

Source The Philadelphia Inquirer

Date June 25, 2007

URL http://www.philly.com/inquirer/opinion/20070625_Editorial__The_Stem-Cell_Veto.html

Quote

“ By means of bald assertion, the White House seeks to enshrine in law what is essentially a religious belief: That all stages of human life are sacred. Hands off. As Abraham Lincoln pointed out, it's fine to do that in this country if you can sell all the people on it, but Bush can't, hasn't tried (he knows he would fail), and is instead establishing by fiat a policy favored mainly by people who share this religious view.”

Add or change this opinion item's references

This item argues for the position Act should be passed on the topic Stem Cell Research Enhancement Act of 2007.

Retrieved from "https://discoursedb.org/w/index.php?title=States_must_lead&oldid=6046"

This page was last edited on June 25, 2007, at 21:46.

All text is available under the terms of the GNU Free Documentation License.