

Suing Arizona hurts chances for immigration overhaul

The printable version is no longer supported and may have rendering errors. Please update your browser bookmarks and please use the default browser print function instead.

This is an opinion item.

Author(s) USA Today editorial board

Source USA Today

Date July 7, 2010

URL http://www.usatoday.com/news/opinion/editorials/2010-07-07-editorial07_ST_N.htm

Quote

“ "Given that federal irresponsibility and inaction created much of the immigration mess, the lawsuit seems premature and unnecessarily inflammatory. The law doesn't even take effect until July 29. The harmful effects are, for now, theoretical. Government lawyers can't yet point to an instance of racial profiling, which would make their case stronger." ”

Add or change this opinion item's references

This item argues against the position Lawsuit was justified on the topic United States of America v. Arizona.

Retrieved from

"https://discoursedb.org/w/index.php?title=Suing_Arizona_hurts_chances_for_immigration_overhaul&oldid=12393"

This page was last edited on July 7, 2010, at 20:05.

All text is available under the terms of the GNU Free Documentation License.