

The Gorsuch nomination

The printable version is no longer supported and may have rendering errors. Please update your browser bookmarks and please use the default browser print function instead.

This is an opinion item.

Author(s) The Washington Times editorial board

Source The Washington Times

Date February 1, 2017

URL <http://www.washingtontimes.com/news/2017/feb/1/editorial-the-gorsuch-nomination/>

Quote

“ Such is the partisan divide in America at the moment that John Jay, Learned Hand or Louis Brandeis could not pass the inspection of the pickers of tiny nits in the U.S. Senate without an epic struggle. But Mr. Gorsuch, 49, is the distinguished choice in the mold of the late Antonin Scalia who reveres the Constitution as it was written, with none of the ghostly “penumbras” and gauzy “emanations” that certain lesser jurists have insisted they see in the founding document.

”

Add or change this opinion item's references

This item argues for the position Gorsuch should be confirmed on the topic Neil Gorsuch Supreme Court nomination.

Retrieved from "https://discoursedb.org/w/index.php?title=The_Gorsuch_nomination&oldid=29078"

This page was last edited on March 22, 2017, at 19:16.

All text is available under the terms of the GNU Free Documentation License.