

The Iraq report: Naive to the core

The printable version is no longer supported and may have rendering errors. Please update your browser bookmarks and please use the default browser print function instead.

This is an opinion item.

Author(s) New Hampshire Union Leader editorial board

Source New Hampshire Union Leader

Date December 11, 2006

URL <http://www.unionleader.com/article.aspx?articleId=7a7a59c5-0a30-4ba8-bdc4-5aa5458f7171>

Quote

“ The study group's recommendations for talking Iran and Syria into bringing peace to Iraq are laughable. President Bush is right to consider the report's recommendations but not rubber stamp them. There are some worthy ideas in the report, but also some stupendously unrealistic ones. President Bush should, with the advice of commanders in the field, cherry pick the report.”

Add or change this opinion item's references

This item takes a mixed stance on the position Iraq Study Group's recommendations should be followed on the topic Post-invasion Iraq.

Retrieved from "https://discoursedb.org/w/index.php?title=The_Iraq_report:_Naive_to_the_core&oldid=4116"

This page was last edited on December 12, 2006, at 14:36.

All text is available under the terms of the GNU Free Documentation License.