

The Right Trade Deals With Latin America

The printable version is no longer supported and may have rendering errors. Please update your browser bookmarks and please use the default browser print function instead.

This is an opinion item.

Author(s) Tom Daschle

Source The Washington Post

Date June 25, 2007

URL <http://www.washingtonpost.com/wp-dyn/content/article/2007/06/25/AR2007062501468.html>

Quote

“ "There is evidence of conditions-based support from Congress leading to positive changes in Colombia. For example, the Leahy law on U.S. military aid, which prohibits U.S. security assistance to any foreign military unit credibly suspected of gross violations of human rights, has been an important tool in decreasing human rights abuses by Colombian military and police units." ”

Add or change this opinion item's references

This item takes a mixed stance on the position Agreement should be ratified on the topic Colombia-United States Free Trade Agreement.

Retrieved from

"https://discoursedb.org/w/index.php?title=The_Right_Trade_Deals_With_Latin_America&oldid=6052"

This page was last edited on June 26, 2007, at 12:21.

All text is available under the terms of the GNU Free Documentation License.