

The stem cell do-over

The printable version is no longer supported and may have rendering errors. Please update your browser bookmarks and please use the default browser print function instead.

This is an opinion item.

Author(s) Los Angeles Times editorial board

Source Los Angeles Times

Date April 12, 2007

URL <http://www.latimes.com/news/opinion/la-ed-stemcell12apr12,0,5600581.story>

Quote

“ Although they dress up their arguments in the language of science, opponents of research using embryonic cells are basically fighting a religious battle. Central to it is the dubious premise that early-stage embryos fertilized in vitro are the moral equivalent of fully formed human beings. Even if that belief were valid, it is already being violated by in vitro fertilization, a mainstream medical practice that produces thousands of excess embryos a year.”

Add or change this opinion item's references

This item argues for the position Act should be passed on the topic Stem Cell Research Enhancement Act of 2007.

Retrieved from "https://discoursedb.org/w/index.php?title=The_stem_cell_do-over&oldid=5305"

This page was last edited on April 16, 2007, at 19:00.

All text is available under the terms of the GNU Free Documentation License.