Turkish (blood)bath

The printable version is no longer supported and may have rendering errors. Please update your browser bookmarks and please use the default browser print function instead.

This is an opinion item.

Author(s) Ralph Peters

Source New York Post

Date June 1, 2010

URL http://www.nypost.com/p/news/opinion/opedcolumnists/turkish_blood_bath_Jean7yjj5Salz75brRSsMJ operation in a move to position itself as the new champion of the Palestinians. And Turkish decision-makers knew Israel would have to react -- and were waiting to exploit the inevitable clash. The provocation was as cynical as it was carefully orchestrated. The lead vessel, the Mavi Marmara, just happened to have an al-Jazeera TV crew on board to film Israel's response. Ironically, the early videos would've been counterproductive, had world leaders and journalists not been programmed to blame everything on Israel."

Quote

"

Add or change this opinion item's references

This item argues for the position Israel was justified in its actions on the topic Gaza flotilla raid.

This item argues for the position Outcome was Turkey's fault on the topic Gaza flotilla raid.

Retrieved from "https://discoursedb.org/w/index.php?title=Turkish_(blood)bath&oldid=12097"

This page was last edited on June 4, 2010, at 13:47.

All text is available under the terms of the GNU Free Documentation License.