

What Makes Ahmadinejad Smile?

The printable version is no longer supported and may have rendering errors. Please update your browser bookmarks and please use the default browser print function instead.

This is an opinion item.

Author(s) Fareed Zakaria

Source Newsweek

Date January 10, 2009

URL <http://www.newsweek.com/id/178850>

Quote

“Men like Hosni Mubarak and King Abdullah of Jordan don't have to worry about winning elections, so they can merely stay quiet. If you want to get a sense of where public opinion now stands in the region, listen to the only democratically elected leader in the Arab world. The prime minister of Iraq, America's staunch ally, Nuri al-Maliki, has called on all Arab and Muslim countries to "cancel their diplomatic relations and stop all contacts—public and private—with this murderous regime, which continues its painful aggression against peaceful, unarmed civilians.”

Add or change this opinion item's references

This item argues against the position Israel was right to attack Gaza on the topic Gaza War.

Retrieved from "https://discoursedb.org/w/index.php?title=What_Makes_Ahmadinejad_Smile%3F&oldid=9917"

This page was last edited on July 14, 2009, at 17:50.

All text is available under the terms of the GNU Free Documentation License.