

Winning on Offense

The printable version is no longer supported and may have rendering errors. Please update your browser bookmarks and please use the default browser print function instead.

This is an opinion item.

Author(s) Ralph Peters

Source New York Post

Date June 21, 2007

URL http://www.nypost.com/seven/06212007/postopinion/opedcolumnists/winning_on_offense_opedcolumnists_ralph_peters.htm?page=0

Quote

“Political hucksterism and poll-pandering on Capitol Hill amount to stabbing our troops in the back. Period. The insistence that success or failure will be determined beyond doubt by September is pure political quackery. The military operations and political maneuvering in Iraq are infernally complex. The earliest we might know anything will be around Thanksgiving - and all we'll know then is whether or not the Iraqis are getting on board in a serious way. ”

Add or change this opinion item's references

This item argues against the position Coalition troops should pull out on the topic Post-invasion Iraq.

Retrieved from "https://discoursedb.org/w/index.php?title=Winning_on_Offense&oldid=6027"

This page was last edited on June 21, 2007, at 14:12.

All text is available under the terms of the GNU Free Documentation License.